First Foot Forward: An Intro to Sugar Daddy Dating
Let’s face it: there’s a world of Sugar Daddy dating sites out there for you to explore. These sites claim that you only have to upload a single profile to start enjoying the kind of relationships with generous, mature and in-demand men. They make you feel as though finding a Sugar Daddy simply boils down to uploading your best picture, smiling and waiting for the Sugar Daddies to come to you.

And you know what? That may work – at first. But ladies, I just want to stress here that the odds are against you. Statistics have indicated that there are eight women for every Sugar Daddy – and I don’t need to point out that that’s a lot of competition! Don’t believe me, just look through the number of women on any given sugar baby site just in your town. And let’s not forget the fact that some of those Sugar Daddies aren’t what they appear to be. Some are fake Sugar Daddies – and the only goal they have is to exploit you and take advantage of you.

So if you somehow manage to stand out from the crowd and attract an appealing Sugar Daddy, what happens next? What happens when you start emailing with a potential Sugar Daddy? What happens when you start to go on dates? How can you tell if he’s a fake Sugar Daddy? Your safety (personal and emotional safety) should always be your number one concern.

And if you manage to jump through these intimidating obstacles on your own, how can you avoid the fake Sugar Daddies, how can you guarantee that you’ll keep your Sugar Daddy interested – not to mention willing to give you exactly what you want?

That’s where The Sugar Daddy Formula Blueprint comes in.

Before I get into this, let me take a minute to introduce myself. I’m Taylor Jones and I consider myself to be a chic entrepreneur and a Sugar Baby. These are my two passions – and thanks to my Sugar Daddy, I’ve found a unique way to combine my two loves by founding The Sugar Daddy Formula. I teach Sugar Babies with the “know how” to get what they want from their Sugar Daddies - and I teach them how to do it with proven, guaranteed and easy-to-follow steps that accelerate Sugar Baby success.

And those are the exact steps you’re about to find in this Blueprint!
As for my own story, I have always been attracted to men older than me. Perhaps it was the maturity and the wisdom they provided and the guidance I yearned for. I was in a relationship with a much older man and at that time I certainly didn’t know the term “Sugar Baby.” I was dating him for over a year when he finally told me the truth about his age. I was shocked. He was older than my father. He lived an above average lifestyle. Had a house, nice cars, Single and no kids living in the home.

I couldn’t believe that he had lied to me about something so important. It left me confused, feeling deceived and unsure if I wanted to continue with the relationship. I confided in a friend who asked me a question that changed my life…

“What is he doing for you?”

At first, I didn’t really understand that question. What did she mean, what was he doing for me? Well, when we would go out, he would cover the bills on our activities, like any other guy would. Of course, we were intimate with each other, but I wasn’t about to give her all the dirty details about that.

My friend told me he was “enjoying my youth” and I should benefit just as much as he was. Based on my friend’s advice, I came up with a little proposition: I was going to keep dating him, but the relationship was going to be on my terms. Of course, I didn’t reveal my terms to him directly. I used my system of “How to Ask For What You Want and Get It” (check it out on the Sugar Daddy Formula website!) and he eagerly agreed to my terms.

It changed my outlook on relationships, regardless of how old or young the partner is. When you have a relationship, you have to get your wants and needs from that person - and if you’re not getting it in your existing relationship, you will seek it out until your needs are being met.

So that leads me to The Sugar Daddy Formula Blueprint – the guide on how to get what you want out of life. A mature and generous guy who wants to have fun with you, lavish attention on you and reward you with plenty of gifts.

From the Ground Up: Setting Goals, the Foundation for Sugar Daddy Dating
Before we start off the Blueprint, let’s address a specific part of the Sugar Baby experience. For many women, the thought of getting paid by men for their company might seem a bit off-putting; however, Sugar Babies don’t see themselves as “getting paid.” Rather, she sees her situation as showing her appreciation to the friend (the man) who helps her out. She may also see it as “found money”, there for the taking if he’s willing to give it away.

Whatever or however Sugar Babies rationalize it, she does not see herself as getting paid. In fact, the Sugar Baby is largely in control of the relationship. The Sugar Daddy’s treatment of her must conform to her sense of reality, not is, or he’ll lose what he found. Few girls ever take the step of having sex for money in their mind, and those who take that step rarely recover. Sugar Babies will instantly disappear if they sense that’s what their Sugar Daddy is after, as it’s a sign that he wants to control her in some way.

So what does this have to do with setting goals? Simple: it’s easy to become lost without having an idea of what you’re getting into. If you’re getting paid for sex, let’s call it like it is: you’ve entered into hooker territory. As I’ve hoped to illustrate, Sugar Babies are not hookers – and women who hide behind the “Sugar Baby” label to morally justify sleeping with men for money should face reality.

Now that we’ve got that out of the way, let’s move on. As always, finding the ideal Sugar Daddy should be the main motivation behind each and every one of your Sugar Daddy goals. For example, I’m into different types of business endeavors and my Sugar Daddy complements me in that and offers me guidance and financial assistance. This is a Sugar Daddy in which there is no sexual encounters, but I do offer him something in return.

He’s a retired businessman and most of the people in his peer group they are only thinking about what their health condition is, what medication they are on and their golf swing. They passed the point of creativity, ambition and wanting to accomplish things in life, and are only seeking a comfort zone.

One of the things he gets from me is the ability for him to think and feel young. He gets pleasure out of me being creative about my business endeavors. I ask him questions and include him in my thought process and that brings him excitement. Also, he enjoys our conversations and we actually have a synergy between us. I keep him interested in life.

So come to terms of why you want to be a Sugar Baby, as with anything in life it will have an effect on you emotional well being. Either way, we have the tips and techniques for every facet of the type of Sugar Daddy relationship you’re seeking, even if it is purely for financial gain.

So with that said, let’s move on!

Setting goals may not necessarily be the sexiest aspect of the Sugar Baby lifestyle, but it’s an undeniably fundamental one. Goals will help you protect your happiness, achieve financial independence and actually find Sugar Daddies who suit your needs, and not necessarily the other way around.

So how can you set successful Sugar Baby goals? Follow these tips and techniques below:

• Write down your reasons for pursing the Sugar Baby lifestyle in the first place. Are you looking for a way to enjoy seeing the world? Do you want to meet older men who can act as a mentor to you? Are you only seeking financial gains? With these reasons in place, write down your passions. If you’ve always wanted to open your own music store or you have your heart set on designing and selling jewelry, see if you can merge these passions with the Sugar Baby lifestyle. For example, perhaps you could set some goals where you would make enough money to start your own business, or strike up a partnership with a Sugar Daddy who can connect you with important industry peers.

• Once you have your goals and passions in place, write down a monthly strategy for meeting these goals. For example, if you eventually want to start an online jewelry business, you could make it a point to research online jewelry stores and talk to potential Sugar Daddies with online entrepreneurial experience. If you can, break down the monthly strategy into a day-by-day guide – this will ensure that you remain on track.
• Always evaluate the progress you’ve been making – and be extremely honest in your evaluations. Are you doing enough to achieve your goals? What’s holding you back from putting your Sugar Baby goals in place? What could you be doing better? If you have trouble with assessments, connect with outer Sugar Babies via the forum or email us directly to help you with your personal evaluation.

Remember, the key to your success as a Sugar Baby is to lay down a map for where you want this incredible journey to take you. Being a Sugar Baby is undeniably fun, but the real thrill from the experience is getting what you want and you in the driver’s seat steering straight for your goals – be it a new business venture or the financial security that gives you more peace of mind.
One of a Kind: Identifying Your Sugar Baby Personality Type
Now that you’ve set your Sugar Baby goals, it’s time to move onto the next step: identifying your Sugar Baby personality.

No matter who you are or where you come from, as a Sugar Baby, you fall into one of four Sugar Baby categories:

1. Mercenary Sugar Baby. Mercenary is just another word for a Sugar Baby who’s just looking for financial benefits from her Sugar Daddy. From getting that tuition bill paid to using credit cards with virtually no limits, the Mercenary Sugar Baby is looking to make stacks of cash.

2. Sugar Baby Opportunistic. This Sugar Baby is looking to benefit both emotionally and financially. She wants a Sugar Daddy that won’t just take care of her bills, but can provide her with a fulfilling emotional relationship as well.

3. Sugar Baby Enhancer. This Sugar Baby is looking to live the high life without receiving any financial benefits. She already has the money to treat herself to what she wants – she just wants the right man to open those exclusive restaurant and club doors!

4. Traditional Sugar Baby. She’s looking to meet with Sugar Daddies to form deep emotional connections and have a fulfilling relationship with her Sugar Daddy.

So why is it so important to understand which Sugar Baby personality type you fall under? The reasoning is simple: once you understand more about your Sugar Baby personality, you can better communicate your needs and expectations to your Sugar Daddy.

Understanding what exactly you want from your Sugar Daddy is crucial to ensuring that you actually get it. For example, if you’re a Mercenary Sugar Baby but you keep finding Sugar Daddies who would rather open exclusive doors than their wallets to you, then knowing that you want financial gifts will help you narrow down better Sugar Daddies for your needs. Conversely, it can also help you better communicate with your Sugar Daddy about what you expect, and what you don’t particularly care for.

If the thought of being so upfront with your Sugar Daddy about what gifts you expect from him makes you cringe, not to worry: you don’t have to be so forthright with the information. All you have to do is find a void that’s missing in his life, and determine how you can fulfill that void. While it might seem a bit depressing, choosing a Sugar Daddy who has something missing from his life will give you an opportunity to fill that void and is the best way to guarantee the success of your relationship.

As an example, I used to have a Sugar Daddy who was an absolute workaholic. He loved working late, and weekends were just extra days that could be spent on take-home work. I found that what was missing in his life was a companion who was understanding of his lifestyle, and who would be ready and waiting when he wanted to have some fun.

The Brand of Man: Deciphering Your Sugar Daddy’s Personality Type
Like with Sugar Babies, Sugar Daddies come in specific types and categories – and as soon as you can nail down which one your Sugar Daddy belongs to, you'll be able to use this information to establish the kind of bond that will result in some serious benefits. Here are the four Sugar Daddy types:

1. The Mercenary Sugar Daddy. The mercenary sugar daddy falls into two subtypes: Old Money and New Money. A sugar daddy that is used to money (Old Money) but is bored by what it can get him; therefore, he expects more from his sugar baby than just looks. The New Money sugar daddy, on the other hand, is likely looking for a flashy sugar baby who’s good in bed.

2. The Emotionally Starved Sugar Daddy. This sugar daddy is looking for an emotional connection. This sugar daddy wants a sugar baby who isn’t just attractive, but has more traditional values as well. This Sugar Daddy is all about TRUST!

3. The Sugar Daddy Enhancer. This sugar daddy wants an attractive and articulate sugar baby who appreciates the same lifestyle that they can offer. With the right sugar baby on his arms, this sugar daddy wants to take advantage of everything that the world has to offer- he wants a big slice of pie with ice cream too!

4. The Traditional Sugar Daddy. This sugar daddy may make a lot of money, but his values certainly haven’t changed. He wants a sugar baby who wants to be cared for and loved, but not because he has plenty of money. His self-worth is on the line here – therefore, this type of sugar daddy needs a sugar baby who never, ever makes him feel like her motives are just about money.

Okay, you might be thinking to yourself. This is all well and good, but how exactly will I be able to tell which type my Sugar Daddy falls into?

I’m not going to lie here – online Sugar Daddy dating poses a particular challenge to identifying your Sugar Daddy’s personality, especially if all you have to go off of is his profile description and a few exchanged emails. But it’s not impossible.
With that in mind, let’s take a look at how you can identify your Sugar Daddy’s personality type:

• Take a closer look at his online profile photo. Is he standing in the middle of a busy club with a drink in his hand? Chances are that the way to his heart involves being an active and happy socialite who’s always up for a night on the town. If he posts a traditional business photo, then you have a Traditional Sugar Daddy on your hands, who is looking to be cared for. Of course, if your Sugar Daddy doesn’t have an online photo, it can mean one of two things: he wants to protect his privacy, or he’s married.

• If you have a few emails, pay careful attention to what he talks about the most. Does he go on about his business? If so, you have either a Mercenary Sugar Daddy or a Traditional Sugar Daddy on your hands. Does he talk about his love for travel and the nightlife? Then say hello to the Sugar Daddy Opportunist or the Sugar Daddy Enhancer.

• Finally, if you meet face to face, be sure to note what he talks about the most, and how willing he is to flash the cash. Mercenary Sugar Daddies are more likely to use money to try to impress you, while the Traditional Sugar Daddy will probably try to be more discreet. Of course, if your Sugar Daddy has a five-star hotel room ready to go, then he’s a Mercenary Sugar Daddy, while the Traditional Sugar Daddy wants to take the time to get to know you.

Understanding your Sugar Daddy’s personality type is key to knowing what behaviors, conversations and interests will keep him intrigued. Once you’ve unlocked his personality type, you’re ready to seduce your Sugar Daddy – not to mention be seduced yourself!
To Be or Not to Be: Are you the Hunter or the Hunted in Your Dating Life?
When it comes to how Sugar Babies pursue their dream Sugar Daddies, many women fall into either one of two camps: they prefer to be the ones doing the hunting, or they want to be pursued by their Sugar Daddies and entice them into a chase.

No matter which camp you fall into, there’s no denying that both of them have their benefits. So here’s a question for you: why are you limiting yourself to just one selection, when you can opt to do both at the same time?

The point about hunting for and being hunted by your Sugar Daddy is that it’s all about seduction. At the end of the day, your Sugar Daddy is like any other man on the planet: if you make things too easy for him, he’ll lose interest; make it too hard, and he’ll think that you’ve lost interest.

So when it comes down to it, how can you opt to be hunted and be the hunter at the same time?

It all comes down to gathering up intelligence on your Sugar Daddy and determining the emotional or mental void that needs to be filled by you. For example, if your Sugar Daddy often complains that his wife is unsupported or that he can’t find anyone who shares his passion of history, these are massive clues to you that he’s revealing more information about his emotional and mental voids.

Hunting your Sugar Daddy means understanding this emotional void, and then making “The Seduction Move” that shows him you can fill that void. Let’s say that your Sugar Daddy has an incredible love for travel, but can’t find anyone who will travel with him at the drop of a hat. Pick your time wisely to casual drop in a gem about how you once went backpacking through Europe in college, or about how you went on a road trip without a map and without hotel reservations. This will immediately seduce and intrigue your Sugar Daddy, as you’ve just indicated that you can fulfill a very real emotional need.

Once you’ve made the seduction move, it’s time to sit back and let your Sugar Daddy do a bit of hunting. Now, don’t confuse this with hard-to-get – nothing can be more frustrating for a busy businessman than chasing after a woman who appears disinterested. Maintain an air of mystery, use a little coy flirtation with your conversations and always hint at stories and personal anecdotes that pertain to his emotional need.

He’ll be like putty in your hands – and you’d have finally found the powerful balance between being hunted and hunting.
A Word is Worth a Million Dollars: Personal Ads that Attract Six-Figure Sugar Daddies
In this section, we’re going to stress just how the online ad plays a crucial role in attracting tons of Sugar Daddies to you. The online ad is the first impression you’ll be making on these Sugar Daddies. The goal of the profile is to be read so that you can begin the seduction process – and that will occur through your words. It’s as if you’re painting a mental picture, and as the Sugar Baby, you can control what image you’re projecting based on your preferred Sugar Daddy type.

The purpose of the profile is to pique the Sugar Daddy’s interest into wanting to get to know you, which involves understanding the experience your Sugar Daddy is hoping to have with you. You need to know the end result they want so you can convey that in just a few seconds so you can get them to respond to your profile.

Now that we’ve covered the bases on why your online profile is so important to attracting Sugar Daddies, let’s begin the process!

There’s no denying that you want to make the most of the online Sugar Daddy dating website you signed up for. So you draw up a profile that details more about you, post your sexiest picture and wait for the responses to come rolling in.

Only they don’t – and you’re left wondering just what the heck you’re doing wrong.

If you want the secrets to attracting dozens of six-figure Sugar Daddies (and let’s face it, who doesn’t?), then it’s time to reveal some of the best tips and techniques you can use to turn your online dating profile into a Sugar Daddy magnet.

Use these tips and techniques at your own risk!

• Whatever you do, please don’t post a picture of yourself in a bikini or an extremely sexy outfit that shows a lot of skin. Six-figure Sugar Daddies are looking for companions, not evening escorts. Besides, showing that much skin in an effort to attract a Sugar Daddy – or any man, for that matter – indicates to the world that you don’t value yourself enough to let your body take a backseat.

• Another classic mistake that many Sugar Babies make is that they mention financials in their online profiles. While you may think that this is a great way to screen out Sugar Daddies who might not be able to afford you, six-figure Sugar Daddies see it as such: she only wants me for my wallet. Remember, Sugar Daddies are just as invested in the emotional aspect of the Sugar Daddy relationship as the financial, so don’t make him feel like an ATM machine before you’ve even met the guy.

• Highlight your interests in your profile, but be sure to post interesting questions that your Sugar Daddies will be unable to resist answering. One of the most successful Sugar Baby dating profiles I’ve seen ended with the beginning of a joke – which meant that if Sugar Daddies wanted to hear the rest, they had to email her. It was pure brilliance.

• How do you know if your ad is hitting the mark? Simple – take stock of the kind of emails you’re getting from Sugar Daddies. If you’re after a specific type of Sugar Daddy personality and you seem to be attracting the wrong ones, take stock of your online profile and see what could be attracting the wrong Sugar Daddies. For example, if you’re after a Traditional Sugar Daddy and you’re only getting emails from New Money Sugar Daddies, see if your profile is unwittingly highlighting your sexual skills, your love of flash, or anything else that could be catching the latter’s eye.

• Finally, pay attention to the emails you get from your potential Sugar Daddies. If they’re genuinely interested in learning more about you, then they’re worth talking to. However, if an inquiring Sugar Daddy immediately wants to talk financials without getting to know who you are first, you might want to back away from that one, as he’s far more interested in money rather than the special connection between the Sugar Baby and the Sugar Daddy.

A great online Sugar Daddy dating profile is the key to Sugar Baby success – so use these tips and techniques to ensure that you’re not your own worst enemy!
First Impressions Are Lasting: Quality Replies to the Personal Ad
Now that you’ve learned what it takes to craft a great online profile, it’s time to move onto the next step – designed winning replies to the personal ad. After all, you’ve spent ages creating the perfect profile to protect a certain mental image – and the reply you send to Sugar Daddies must continue in the vein of that mental image.

When you use the Blueprint to make your online profile, it’s pretty much a guarantee that you’re going to have more than your fair share of Sugar Daddies interested in getting to know more about you. However, don’t think that the hard part is over just yet – the replies you send their way can either lead to a great Sugar Daddy relationship, or a missed opportunity.

Let’s take a look at how you can write up a winning reply to a personal ad.

If your Sugar Daddy writes to you, be sure to take a careful look at his online profile before you write back. Use the tricks highlighted earlier in the Blueprint to determine what personality type this Sugar Daddy falls into. If it’s a type you’re intrigued by, then you’ll need to craft the reply based on his personality, as this will practically guarantee that he’ll be writing back to you:

• If you’re responding to an Old Money Mercenary ad, be sure to highlight your shared traditional values; if you’re responding to a New Money Mercenary, ask him if he’s ever been to a big-name club in town, as he loves going out on the town.

• Sugar Daddy Opportunists want to make an emotional connection – so if you want to craft a dynamite response, you have to make the email all about them. Ask follow-up questions about his interests, and be sure to avoid the topic of work.

• Sugar Daddy Enhancers love adventure, so your response needs to reflect your own abilities to keep up with him. Talk about travel or something crazy you’ve done, like skydiving or bungee-jumping. He’ll be head over heels before he knows it.

• Traditional Sugar Daddies should be approached with a reply that combines Old Money Mercenary and Sugar Daddy Opportunist responses.

So what happens when you see a Sugar Daddy who catches your eye, and you want to break the ice?
• Use The Sugar Daddy Formula email template to guarantee that you’ll catch the eye of a potential Sugar Daddy. The email template – not to mention other secrets for attracting six-figure Sugar Daddies online – is available in my special report, “The Right Ad for the Right Man: My Personal Ad for Attracting Six-Figure Sugar Daddies.”

• Make sure that your reply is centered on his Sugar Daddy personality type. You can use the above advice for help here, as the fundamentals are precisely the same.

• Finally, don’t badger a Sugar Daddy if he doesn’t get back to you. If he hasn’t yet, then it’s probably because he’s busy – and if it’s been awhile since you sent the email, then it’s likely that you’re not his type. Not to worry – there are plenty of Sugar Daddies where he came from!

Writing winning replies to your perfect Sugar Daddy doesn’t have to be hard – and with these tips by your side, they won’t be. Just remember to keep that mental image alive in his mind, as it’s the key to seducing your Sugar Daddy and guiding him to you.
Slide a Little Closer: Connecting with Your Sugar Daddy
The connecting part happens when you’re talking offline with your Sugar Daddy; in other words, when you’re meeting person to person. Your Sugar Daddy already has a mental image of you and he’s intrigued – and now you need to use that image to allure your Sugar Daddy.

Connecting with your Sugar Daddy isn’t about ensuring that you get what you want (although it doesn’t hurt). Rather, connecting with your Sugar Daddy is making sure that he feels valued as a man, and thus creating an emotional need for you that guarantees a long and happy Sugar Daddy/Sugar Baby relationship.

So with that in mind, how can you connect with your Sugar Daddy? And how will this affect your efforts to get what you want?

First, it’s important to note that like with all things pertaining to Sugar Daddies, you need to be highly aware of his personality type. Many Sugar Babies often make the mistake of diving headfirst into a Sugar Daddy relationship, only to fail to really connect because they’re missing out on key elements of his personality. Let’s face it: if you really want to get to the heart of your Sugar Daddy, you need to understand what he holds close to that heart.

Once you’ve used the previously mentioned tips for identifying your Sugar Daddy’s personality type, it’s time to start building up trust. Trust is hugely important for a Sugar Daddy – as a man with money, it might be more natural for him to mistrust others. That’s why it’s not always the wisest decision to bring up financials right away. Instead, let him get comfortable with who you are. Show him that you’re listening to his needs, and be attentive to his conversations. Let him build up a desire and passion to be with you and know more before he finds out the price of bliss. Express an interest in what he finds interesting, and you’ll soon start to see a more trusting Sugar Daddy.

Only once you’ve reached this stage should you begin to talk about financials - that is, if he hasn’t already brought it up himself. Even if he brings it up you may want to ask him to hold off on that for a bit as you are mostly interested in learning more about him and are you two compatible. Then before this date or conversation is over go back to the topic of finance and you find your sugar daddy eating out of your hand. But trust me: if you’re making him feel comfortable and like he can trust you, then he’ll bring up financials sooner than you think.
Even after discussing financials, be sure that you continue to meet his needs based on his personality type. Too many Sugar Babies give up on flattering and attending to the emotional needs of their Sugar Daddies once they start getting money, because they figure it’s a done deal. Guess what ladies: your Sugar Daddy is still a man. And like any man, if he’s not getting his emotional fulfillment from you, then he’s going to seek it elsewhere.

Finally, be sure that you’re always in control of the Sugar Baby/Sugar Daddy relationship. This doesn’t mean overtly planning dates and demanding that things be on your timeframe; it means that you understand precisely what it takes to keep him coming back to you, be it five months or five years down the line. After all, the best Sugar Babies know exactly what to do to emotionally please their Sugar Daddies…

And they’re not afraid to use it!
Permanent Durability: Cementing Your Relationship for the Long Haul
You’ve finally found the ideal Sugar Daddy for you- and he’s fantastic. The two of you always have a great time when you’re out together. He genuinely cares about your interests, and you find him fascinating. The two of you could spend the entire evening talking about your passions and hobbies – and you often do! And of course, let’s not forget the fact that he’s incredibly generous, both with his time and his money.

So when it comes down to it, how can you cement the relationship and ensure that you have your Sugar Daddy in your life for as long as you’d like?

As it turns out, it’s surprisingly simple to cement your relationship with your Sugar Daddy, particularly if the two of you have already reached the stage where you really enjoy each other’s company. Use the following techniques to take your Sugar Daddy/Sugar Baby relationship to the next level, and you won’t ever have to worry about him wanting another Sugar Baby:

• It’s all about intimacy. We’re talking hand-holding, reaching over when you’re riding in the car and touching him, and giving him compliments. It’s the little things that make an impact on a man and draw him into you. It’s about keeping the early stages of a relationship alive by keeping everything exciting for him.

• Make it fresh every time you see him. The two of you may already have your favorite restaurant or bar already picked out but, try to keep things exciting and fresh by keeping him on his toys. The next time you see him, why not bring him a small gift that reminds you of him? Or suggest that the two of you do something interactive and fun, like a cooking class, wine tasting or even an all-you-can-eat BBQ festival. He’ll love how you’re able to constantly coming up with great ideas for fresh and fascinating dates.

• Always leave your Sugar Daddy wanting more. As a Sugar Baby, this could mean anything from indulging in some mysterious flirtation (always a great idea) or wearing an outfit that tastefully hints at your gorgeous body (body con dresses with long sleeves are particularly scintillating without being too revealing). The more you leave your Sugar Daddy in suspense, the longer the relationship will last – guaranteed.
• Finally, build a bond that lasts. This means connecting with your Sugar Daddy on multiple levels, like you would with a good friend. Engage in meaningful conversations about your interests, share a personal secret with him, or hold his hand as he talks about a painful childhood memory. As you can see, it’s the smaller gestures that really add up to long-term Sugar Baby/Sugar Daddy relationships.

With so many amazing tips, techniques and secrets, what could I possibly reveal to you to round off The Sugar Daddy Formula Blueprint?

Simple: you need to learn exactly what to do to get what you want from your Sugar Daddy – and you can even learn to get something without asking.

Another Sugar Daddy Formula publication (“How to Get Exactly What You Want From Your Sugar Daddy…Without Asking For It!”) takes a step-by-step approach to learning how to gently yet effective manipulate your Sugar Daddy. However, as a bonus to you, I’m going to reveal some of the steps you’ll find in “How to Get What You Want”…

So take a look at these key techniques, and start getting exactly what you want from your Sugar Daddy!
1. First, you need to learn the proper way to ask your Sugar Daddy for what you want. While you might be tempted to either come right out and ask, or dance around the subject, neither approach is going to get you what you want. Want to know more? Head to the “How to Get What You Want” page to find out!

2. Always read his body language before you ask him for what you want. If he looks tense, upset or otherwise closed off to you (crossed arms, leaning away from you), it might be in your best interest to wait until he’s in a more relaxed and open mood.

3. If you’re wondering if you should ask in person or on the phone, the answer truly depends on the relationship you have with your Sugar Daddy. However, from my own personal position, I think asking while you are in his presence or on the phone is a great way to have more of a personal connection.

4. Make sure that your attitude sets you up for success. If you’re always complaining or negative about life in general, your Sugar Daddy isn’t going to want to spoil you with presents. Keep a winning attitude and make him feel happy whenever you’re around – his generosity will thank you for your positive attitude.

5. Finally, knowing when to back off is key to getting what you want. If your Sugar Daddy says no to your request (no matter what the reason), don’t bring it up again. Otherwise, you’ll just seem like a petulant child – and that’s certainly not a great foundation for building a healthy and lasting Sugar Daddy/Sugar Baby relationship.

Now that you have the Blueprint by your side, it’s time to get out there and find the Sugar Daddy of your dreams. Whether it’s online or in person, The Sugar Daddy Formula Blueprint will give you the fundamental tools you need for success.

Of course, like with any blueprint, you’ll need highly specific techniques to make it come to life.
